PRICE FIVE CENTS

CLOSE CONTENT FOR U.S. SENATE CONTROL

NEARLY 8,000 MEN INVOLVED IN FIGHT OVER NEW WAGE LAW

Many Workers Receiving Less Than Forty-cent Scale, Figures Show

Twenty-five Per Cent of Entire Payroll Affected by Disputed Ruling

Early arrangements to bring British Columbia's new minimum wage act into effect to test the validity of the forty-cent an-hour wage order issued under it to apply to lumbering will be made, it is expected here, following conferences between members of the board in charge of the act.

Members of the board will get together on the mainland during the next few days and consider the situation which developed as a result of the decision of the board to fight the forty-cent order in the courts. As a result of the board's deliberations, it is anticipated, definite arrangements will be made for taking the question direct to the Appeal Court as a stated case or through the lower courts in the usual way.

MANY MEN AFFECTED

Nearly 8,000 workers in all branches of lumbering are involved in this legal battle. According to the latest figures available there are at present nearly twenty-four per cent of the lumber workers in all branches of the industry in the Province who are being paid less than forty cents an hour, so that the new order of the board will directly mean an increase of pay for some 8,500 workers.

MANY ORIENTALS

Of the men employed in the lumbering industry last year, 29,46 per cent were Chinese, but the percentage varies considerably in the different branches of the industry. In logging camps there were only 7.53 per cent, of Orientals, on logging railways there were 14.22 per cent, in planing mills 36.85 per cent, in sawmills 33.73 per cent, in shingle mills 45.89 per cent, and in box factories and shish and door mills 11 per cent.

It is in the sawmills that the bulk of the Orientals connected with the industry are employed. While the proportion of Orientals in the sawmills as a whole may be stated as roughly one-third, the percentage varies very considerably in different mills.

IN FEW MILLS

Of the sawmills in the Province which were operated during the past year, 245 sent in returns to the Department of Labor, and it has been found that 42 of the 245 mills employ only 12 men, 132 employ 13 to 25 men, 47 employ 26 to 50 men, 15 employ 51 to 100 men, 10 employ 101 to 250 men, 3 employ 251 to 500 men, 1 employ 501 to 1,000 men, and 1 employ more than 1,000 men.

These figures suggest that a comparatively small number of large firms, situated within easy distance of the larger centres of population, have come to rely upon the Oriental worker to a much larger extent than is common to the industry as a whole.

Heavy Sentences In Vancouver

Vancouver, Nov. 3.—Ten years in the New Westminster penitentiary and ten lashes made up the sentence imposed in the assize court here today by Mr. Justice Gregory on Pietro de Luca, found guilty of a statutory offence. The judge stated he could inflict the death penalty and he told the twenty-eight-year-old Italian that the girl now in hospital, might die as a result of the attack.

Ching Chong, charged with having narcotic drugs in his possession, was sentenced to five years and a fine of $200, or an additional three months. Other sentences were: J. H. Davis, procuring, four years; R. S. Clark, theft, three years; Alex de Bertoli, perjury, three years; George Wong, statutory offence, one year; Kwok Shing, narcotic drugs in possession, six months and $200 fine or three months; Rose Russell, narcotic drugs in possession, six months and $200 fine, or three months; John Mulch, Peter Bressonchuk and Bill Spanis, retaining stolen property, six months; Albert Howard, convicted of a statutory offence, was remanded for sentence pending appeal launched by his counsel, Leone Jackson, who stated he had discovered new evidence. Ball has been granted Howard, who is a taxicab operator. Gurditta, convicted of perjury, was remanded to 2 p.m. for sentence.

SELLING OF CIDER MAY NECESSITATE CHANGES IN RULES

"Hardening" Properties of Apple Drink Makes Handling Problem For Stores

Officials Investigating Possibilities, Following Premier's Demand For Sale

Possibilities of British Columbia-made cider as a popular drink at Government liquor stores will be investigated by Liquor Board officials, following the declaration of Premier Oliver in Penticton yesterday that this beverage must be given a chance in competition with imported alcoholic drinks.

The use of large quantities of British Columbia-made cider through the selling agency of the liquor stores would absorb much of the Province's surplus apple crop, now wasted, the Premier holds. If the fruit men will make their apples into cider he will see that it is placed on the shelves of the liquor stores, the Premier asserted.

CIDER HARDENS FAST

Liquor Board officials have found that this scheme involves some complications caused by the peculiar characteristics of cider. Sweet cider, they explain, quickly gets so hard that it comes under the regulations governing distilled liquors, and for this reason, some change in regulations or even in the liquor law may be necessary to enable the fruit men to engage in the manufacture of the beverage.

These matters will be investigated to find out what measures will be necessary to give the fruit men a chance to market their fruit in a big way in the form of a beverage.

No Sunday Sales At Sesqui Fair At Philadelphia

Philadelphia, Nov. 3.—Visitors to the Sesqui-centennial Exposition here during the next three Sundays will not be entertained by free amusements on the Glad Way, as heretofore. All commercial enterprises, even to the selling of souvenirs, will be stopped on Sundays pending the final outcome of the injunction suit brought against the exposition by the Methodist Men's Committee of 100, the State Supreme Court has decided.

The Supreme Court, while sustaining the Dauphin County court in its injunction order as far as amusements and sales were concerned, granted a temporary writ of superseas to counsel for the exposition, allowing it to continue to operate and charge admissions on Sundays.

AMIEE McPHERSON SENT UP FOR TRIAL

Mrs. Kennedy, Her Mother and Mrs. Sellaf Also Committed in Los Angeles

Los Angeles, Nov. 3.—Amiee McPheron was bound over to the Superior Court by Municipal Judge Samuel R. Blake here to-day for trial on a charge of criminal conspiracy. Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, mother of the evangelist, and Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman-Sellaf, her chief accuser, charged jointly with Mrs. McPheron, also were held for trial in the higher court.

DECLARES INNOCENCE

Mrs. McPheron and her mother both declined to comment on Judge Blake's decision, but as the women left the courthouse the evangelist, Mrs. Sellaf, declared that God is my judge, I am innocent of these charges.

TEN CLAIMS In the preliminary hearing the State's testimony was aimed at proving ten outstanding points in its contention that the entire fabric of the evangelist's story was false. These were:

1.—That Mrs. McPheron, prior to May 9, conceived the idea of running away with her radio operator, Kenneth G. Ormiston.
2.—That to carry out the plot the two met the night of May 9 in the Alexandra Hotel in Los Angeles and completed their plans.

Stowaways From China in Vessel At Vancouver

Vancouver, Nov. 3.—An attempt at wholesale evasion of immigration regulations was nipped yesterday by Vancouver immigration officers when they found fifteen Chinese stowaways on board the liner Empress of Asia. The Chinese were concealed in various parts of the ship, the majority in the laundry. It is suspected they had been stowed away with the convenience of some of the Chinese crew, as it would be impossible for such a party to remain concealed from all on board during the entire trip. They were taken to the immigration detention wards and locked up to await the departure of the ship for the Orient.

EMPIRE DEFENCE PLANS DISCUSSED

Dominion Premiers to Make Statements at Imperial Conference Next Week

London, Nov. 3. (By Cable From George Hambleton, Staff Correspondent of the (Canadian Press))—Statements by the Premiers of the Dominions at the Imperial Conference on the question of Empire defence, which had been planned for to-morrow, will not be made until next week.

Premier King, it is understood, does not propose to outline his statement of additional defence plans by Canada. Following the example of the British Ministers, he proposes to survey what is being done at the present time, but considers that any additional defence proposals are matters for the Canadian Government and the Canadian Parliament to decide.

AVIATION PLANS

Although there has been no official statement on the question of defence as far as Canada is concerned, it is considered probable any developments by the Dominion along this line would be the encouragement of aviation. Premier King already has given an indication of this in promising full co-operation in the development of civilian air routes.

MANY DETAILS REMAIN

Another three weeks' work in all probability lies ahead of the Imperial Conference. Efforts are being made to speed up the proceedings. Adjournment of the conference by November 15 is suggested; but in view of the constitutional issues raised by Premier Hertzog of South Africa there are numerous details still to be dealt with by committee. It is assumed that the conference can complete its work before November 24.

TO VISIT FRANCE

Premier King is making arrangements to be back in Ottawa for the opening of Parliament early in December. He expects to spend a few days in France before sailing for Canada.

The Irish Free State is issuing invitations to the Premiers of the Dominions to visit Dublin before returning home. Unless the conference concludes by November 15 it is very doubtful if Premier King will be able to accept.

New Witness in McPherson Case

Los Angeles, Nov. 3.—A new witness who says she talked with the mystery woman who occupied a cottage at Carmel, California, with Kenneth G. Orrison, fugitive radio man, has entered the Albee Semple McPherson case. A letter was received by District Attorney Asa Keyes from Miss Alice M. Ammerman of Oakland. She is expected to provide the pivotal evidence in the solution of the evangelist's mysterious disappearance last May.

Miss Ammerman, in her letter to the authorities, declared the woman who occupied the Carmel cottage last May was "a religious woman." She enclosed a book given her by the woman.

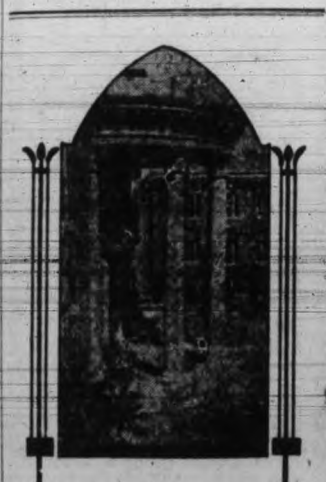

WILLINGDON IS NEW HONORARY COLONEL

Ottawa, Nov. 3.—"I always feel the greatest pride in the fact that in the British Empire there are always to be found those who will do this volunteer service and do the job well at the call of duty. I am very proud to have the privilege of being honorary colonel of the Governor-General's Footguards."

So declared Viscount Willingdon when he accepted the title of honorary colonel at a meeting of the regimental mess last night.

Speaking to the officers, the Governor-General recalled his period of service as a subaltern with the Quebec artillery.

Nearly 12,000 husbands are reported missing from London.

LIQUOR PROBLEM AT GLASGOW BANQUET

Aldermen in Doubt Whether to Serve Beverages to Dominion Premiers

Glasgow, Nov. 3. (Canadian Press Cable)—Glasgow's city council intends to entertain at a banquet the Dominion Premiers now in London attending the Imperial Conference and is seriously debating the question whether liquor should be served at the dinner or not. The public is getting a good deal of amusement over the matter.

For some time past civic functions here have been conducted on a dry foundation, but it has been recommended that on the occasion of the visit of the Premiers there should be a departure from that rule.

The Glasgow Herald, in this connection, says:

"To turn wet as a special mark of distinction is to lay the members of the civic corporation open to the charge that they believe the Dominion Premiers would be offended if alcohol refreshments were denied them. The corporation might reflect upon the doubtful character of the compliment in making a special dispensation in favor of the visitors. If the city fathers wish to restore wet hospitality they should rescind the dry resolution, not for one occasion, but for general application."

Elderly Miner Tells Police How He Was Fleeced of $10,000

Regina, Nov. 3.—A story of being fleeced of $10,000, the savings of twenty-six years in the mining fields of the Yukon, was told to the police here by Frank Kalifeze, aged sixty-two.

According to Kalifeze, he was the victim of an ancient "race track" swindle. He arrived in Vancouver October 22 from Dawson City, intending to buy a home in Victoria. He talked of his work in the gold fields and confided to acquaintances he had enough money to retire. Among those he talked to was a man who gave the name of Albert Hall. Hall told Kalifeze he, too, was wealthy. The two latter decided to stay at the same hotel in Victoria.

The next day, according to the aged miner, while they were near the corner of Douglas Street and Pandora Avenue, a purse containing $100 and racing tips was found. A prosperous looking stranger, who said his name was Walker, claimed it. He asked Kalifeze to take the $100 as reward. The latter refused and the stranger said he would bet the money on a horse race for him.

Walker later announced Kalifeze had won $1,000, but as the money was in a distant place, it would be several days before it arrived. Walker suggested another bet. Kalifeze drew out his last bank note, $10,000, and gave it to Walker for the second bet. The next day there was consternation. Walker said he had bet on the wrong horse and all was lost.

Telling his story here, Kalifeze said Walker later promised to return the money after he had gone to Los Angeles, and the next day met him in Montreal. He then bought Kalifeze a ticket from Vancouver to Montreal, but has not been seen since.

The miner from the Yukon is now on his way back to the Pacific Coast.

Young Woman Who Killed Man Is Found Insane

Owen Sound, Nov. 2.—Kate Hardman was found insane yesterday by the jury which tried her here for the murder of Edward B. McCoy after testimony had been put forward by medical men to the effect that she suffered from hallucinations and was not fit to stand trial. The jury arrived at the verdict without leaving the courtroom. Mr. Justice Logie concurred with committed the young woman to an insane asylum.

McCoy, whose home was in Smithport, Pa., was shot near the shore of Sky Lake on the Bruce Peninsula a few miles west of Wario, by Miss Hardman on July 27 last.

Laborites Gain in Glasgow Election

Glasgow, Nov. 3. (Canadian Press Cable)—Eight seats in the Glasgow City Council were won by the Labor Party in the municipal election last Monday. These included the notable success of Mrs. Nell McLean, wife of the Labor M.P. for the Govan Division of Glasgow, who was elected to the council by a large vote.

Sir William Rowan-Thomson, a prominent Clyde engineer, unsuccessfully contested a Labor seat in the Glasgow Council.

Labor gained two seats in Dundee. The political parties in the Edinburgh Council remain unchanged.

W. Bonnin Put on Trial in Winnipeg

Winnipeg, Nov. 3.—Wilfred Bonnin, in the assize court yesterday pleaded not guilty to a charge of having murdered Maurice Garvey, who was killed during the hold-up of the Logan Avenue branch of the Royal Bank here last May 28.

He was remanded until November 9 for trial.

Bonnin was wounded by police bullets following the robbery, had to be assisted into the dock.

TUTANKHAMEN FINDS

Cairo, Egypt, Nov. 3.—Funeral relics of great historical importance have been found in the third chamber of the tomb of Tutankhamen, in the Valley of Kings, the newspaper says. Work was recently renewed on the task of fully exploring the famous Egyptian tomb and the finds, although not so rich as those found in the first two, are considered of great value because they represent everything used at ancient Egyptian funeral ceremonies.

ARBUTHNOT-HILL APPEAL IS HEARD

Court to Rule on Victorian's
Request Award be Paid

Vancouver, Nov. 2.—Failing to collect a judgment debt and costs, awarded him by the Judicial Committee of the British Privy Council, from the original plaintiffs, John Arbuthnot and Victoria, appealed to the Court of Appeal for an order compelling C. P. Hill to pay the award on the ground that Hill, although not a party to the proceedings, was the initiator and instigator of the litigation.

Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald in Supreme Court refused Arbuthnot's claim and pointed out that if he had any remedy it was against the solicitor who had issued the writ.

The original action was by the Pacific Coast Coal Mines Limited, E. A. Bogue and Henry C. Thompson, suing on behalf of themselves and other shareholders of the company to set aside a $1,500,000 debenture issue to Arbuthnot. Following two appeals to the Privy Council in London that tribunal, December 21, 1920, decided the debentures null and void and adjudged Arbuthnot should recover $139,953 from the plaintiffs.

SUM COLLECTED

The company afterwards became insolvent and $30,000 from the executors of the Bogue estate was all Arbuthnot collected on his judgment. He alleged that Hill, a director and shareholder of the company, and vice-president and a shareholder in the Pacific Coast Collieries Limited, which held nearly all the plaintiff company's stock, was the real plaintiff and acted without authority in prosecuting the action. It was to Hill's advantage that the debentures issued to Arbuthnot should be set aside, but Mr. Justice McDonald held that the Pacific Coast Coal Mines Limited was the real plaintiff and that Hill had thought he was acting on behalf of both companies and that he had taken advice of counsel.

Arbuthnot pressed a claim against Hill for payment of costs which he had incurred in the litigation and also sought recovery of the balance of the judgment awarded him by the Privy Council. The appeal was argued four days before Chief Justice Macdonald and Justices Martin, McPhillips and M. A. Macdonald. Judgment was reserved.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS LEADING IN FIGHT AGAINST DISEASE

Geneva, Nov. 3.—If the League of Nations is trying to outwit war, it is also trying to outwit disease. At a meeting of the health organization, extensive measures were adopted for the carrying on of a detailed fight against all forms of disease, especially contagious ailments, in all parts of the world, from the islands of the South Pacific to remote sections of Africa. Dr. Norman White, of the Rockefeller Foundation, has started for Australia, where, at Melbourne, in December will be held a "pan-Pacific conference" to investigate disease conditions and adopt lines of attack against disease wherever found in the islands of the Pacific.

Special vigor is being put into the warfare against malarial malaria. A decision was reached to prolong for another six months the pending investigation of sleeping sickness in Africa.

The dread disease of cancer is receiving the particular attention of the experts recently gathered in Geneva who examined the results of statistics with regard to the different countries.

A study was ordered of the practicability of founding in Algeria an epidemiological intelligence office for Africa, similar to the already existing at Singapore for the Far East.

Finally, the delegates decided to convene an international anti-rabies conference at Paris in April, 1927, at the Pasteur Institute.

Late H. Houdini Much In Error Says Spiritist

Elmira, N.Y., Nov. 3.—Commenting upon the death of Houdini in Detroit, Mr. Burr of Rochester, president of the New York State Spiritist Society, said the magician "now knows there is a spirit world."

Houdini, he added, conducted his activities against spiritualism with a "great flair for publicity."

"It is not churlish to criticize a man who is dead," said Mr. Burr, "but Houdini, for purposes I have always believed were purely commercial, most viciously and wrongfully misrepresented the honest men and women he left behind him in the minds of a great many uninformed persons the opinion of whom are as false and cheap as that spiritualism has no foundation in science or in fact. Houdini now must come face to face with himself in a place and in a condition where the gatekeepers and the publicity he gained for himself are of no value whatever to him."

WOMAN AND THREE CHILDREN MISSING

Winnipeg, Nov. 3.—Winnipeg police are sharing in the widespread search throughout the Prairie Provinces for Mrs. Violet Moss and her three young children, who have not been heard from since their arrival in Winnipeg late in August.

Francis Moss, brother of Ernest Moss, a farmer of the Dismore, Sask. district, appealed to the authorities for assistance in finding his family. Mr. Moss reported he came to Canada some time ago under the land settlement plan and settled on a farm near Sherbrooke, Que. Dissatisfied with prospects in the East, Mr. Moss migrated to the Prairies. It was his intention his wife and family should join him later.

Investigation shows Mrs. Moss and the three children left Quebec for Winnipeg on August 27. Since that time nothing has been heard from them.

An institute for the study of detecting imitation gems has been established at Vienna.

"OXO" CORDIAL

AN ANCIENT LECTURES MODERNS

Cicero, in 44 B.C., Wrote on Citizenship Words as True Now as Then

Selected and Translated by O. J. Boulton, Barrister-at-law

Private Citizens:—It behooves a private citizen to live on fair and equal terms with his fellows, in a spirit neither servile and grovelling nor yet domineering, and in matters concerning the state to labor for her peace and honor; for such a one we are accustomed to esteem and call a good citizen.

Foreigners:—It is, however, the duty of foreigners, especially of those who dwell in our midst, to attend strictly to their own affairs, and under no circumstances to meddle with the politics of a country not their own.

Judges:—It is especially the duty of a judge to bear in mind that he represents the state, and that he ought to maintain its dignity and honor, to preserve its laws, to dispense to all their constitutional rights, and to remember that all these things have been committed to him as a sacred trust.

Injustice:—Injustices often arise through chicanery, not only through subtle but also through roguish constructions of the law, hence the now well-known expression "The most law, the most injustice" or "More law, less justice." Much wrongdoing between nations arises from the same thing. Thus when a truce had been made with the enemy for thirty days, a noted king went to lay waste their territory by night, on the ground that the armistice stipulated days and not nights. Nor is the conduct of one of our own countrymen above reproach, if what Q. Fabius Labeo makes out is true; appointed by the Senate to act as arbitrator between Nola and Naples in a matter concerning their respective boundaries, he took up the case separately with both sides, urging them not to proceed in an envious or grasping spirit, but rather to be willing to give up some territory instead of demanding their borders advanced. When this had been agreed upon by both sides there was a wide strip of land left in between. And so he fixed their boundaries as they each themselves agreed and what was left in the middle he awarded to the Roman people. This, indeed, is swindling, not adjudication.

Justice:—The first concern of justice is to see that one man does not harm another, unless provoked by some wrongdoing done to him, and next, that he uses his communal goods for the communal welfare, and his private goods for his own.

The basis of justice is good faith, that is to say, truth and fidelity to promises and agreements.

It is likewise the basis of an oath. For in taking an oath it is our duty to consider not what we may have to fear from its violation but wherein its obligation really lies. An oath is something affirmed under a restraining sanction; it is moreover an affirmation given before God as a witness, and one to be adhered to. For it no longer concerns the wrath of the gods, which does not exist but justice and good faith.

Politics:—Generally speaking those who propose to handle the affairs of state, should take as their guides two of the precepts of Plato: first, to keep the good of the people so clearly in view that they will make their every action conform to it, regardless of their own personal interests; second, to work for the welfare of the whole body politic and not to serve party alone and so betray the rest. For the administration of government, like the office of a trustee, must be conducted for the benefit of those entrusted to one's care, and not for those to whom it is entrusted. Those however, who consult the interests of one part of the citizens neglect the other part, and introduce into public life something no less pernicious than sedition and civil discord. And the outcome of that is that some are seen to be pandering to the proletariat, others to the bourgeoisie, and few eager for the welfare of the country as a whole. The good citizen will shun factious strife with abhorrence and dedicate himself to the universal good, without aiming at power or influence for himself. And furthermore he will not expose anyone to hatred or disrepute on groundless charges, but he will surely cleave to justice and honor so closely that he will submit to any loss rather than be untrue to them, and will even face death rather than renounce them.

A most wretched custom, assuredly, is our electioneering and scrambling for office. Concerning this Plato had something very pertinent to say: "Those who struggle with one another to see which one will direct the affairs of the government," he says, "are like two sailors quarreling as to who is going to steer."

After all, justice is the best way to popularity for it is on that ground alone that men are counted "good men." To the people it seems a marvelous virtue—and not without good reason, for no one can be just who fears death, or pain, or exile, or poverty, or who values their opposites more than equity. And people admire especially a man who is uninfluenced by money and if a man has proved himself in that direction they regard him as one who has been tried by fire.

Generosity:—Nothing appeals more to what is best in human nature than kindness and generosity. But kindness and generosity need to be applied with a great deal of caution. In the first place we should see to it that our act of kindness will not prove an injury either to the object of our beneficence or to other means; and thirdly, that it shall be proportionate to the worthiness of the recipient, for this is the very cornerstone of justice and by the standard of justice all acts of generosity and kindness must be measured.

War:—The rules of war should be strictly observed by states at all times. There are two ways of settling a dispute, first by discussion and second by physical force. The former is characteristic of the man and the latter characteristic of the brute; and because this is so we should resort to force only in case we may not first avail ourselves of discussion. The only excuse, therefore, for going to war is that we may live in peace unharmed. And when victory is won we must show consideration for those whom we have conquered by force of arms. Even slaves, who are the most humblest, should receive an impartial justice. They should be treated kindly, as employees, and should be given their dues.

CAMPBELL RIVER HOSPITAL DOING EXCELLENT WORK

Since being taken over by the Sisters of St. Ann, the Campbell River Hospital has undergone a thorough renovating and remodeling and is now doing excellent work, according to Thomas Menzies, superintendent of neglected children who has just returned to the city from a trip to Valdez Island.

Much additional equipment has been installed, including an efficient X-ray machine.

The great value of the hospital to the particular district in which it is located can be judged from large amount of logging operations in the vicinity. Employees of the various gangs regard it as an indispensable benefit.

KING, OLIVER AND GALE UNITE IN BIG MEETING

Dr. King is on his way back to Cranbrook, where the Minister's by-election remains as yet undetermined. Nominations will be received on November 2.

WAR WRECKED MAN HELPS NEEDY CASES

Hundred Per Cent Disabled,
Helps Widows and Orphans
Britannia Post Gives Support to Poppy Ball

The general meeting of the Britannia Post of the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League passed a very sympathetic vote of thanks to a comrade who, though a 100 per cent disabled case and living with his family on his pension, had sent in a cheque donated to the widows and orphans who might be more needy than he. The cheque was a grateful offering for services rendered by the Post of which he is a member.

The secretary reported that since the Canadian Legion of the B.E.S.L. was becoming more widely known many old time members have renewed their interest and rejoined. A number of new members were accepted at the meeting.

SUPPORT POPPY BALL
The Post is giving every support to the forthcoming Poppy Ball and has two or three members acting as chairmen of committees, in connection therewith.

The secretary reported that an ex-member of the Australian forces had just joined the Post and that there are a few more Australian members who will be able to hold a reunion on their own. The only branch of the Imperial forces now lacking would appear to be that of the South African forces, pretty nearly all the other Allies now being represented on the roll.

GUY FAWKES SMOKER
A "Guy Fawkes Smoker" will be held on Saturday evening, it being anticipated that a well-known member of the branch will take a leading part in representing that illustrious figure of history.
The congratulations of the Post were extended to both billiard teams on winning their first two games in the Inter Ex-Service Clubs League. The Britannia Post decided to stage a Christmas tree on December 22 at the Forester's Hall, the change of location being made by reason of the increasing number of members who have joined recently, it being found that this event was handicapped for space last year. A social evening for members and friends will be held on the evening of the same day.

A first-class five-piece orchestra will be in attendance. The whole of the festivities will be held in conjunction with the Naval Veterans Branch the evening will be mainly "A Naval Night."

CARE OF RUGS

You can keep the corners of rugs from curling up if you sew some stiff material, like buckram or haircloth on the underside of the corners. You can also sew on the small weights that are used by tailors and dressmakers to make material fall straight.

Do You Dread the Winter?

You wouldn't, if you could meet its chilly blasts with that conquering power of resistance which is the unflinching sign of robust health.

If you are pale, weak and nervous—if you lack that vim and vigour which should cause you to welcome instead of fearing the exhilarating cold of winter—it simply means that your whole system is in a run down condition.

It means that your blood is poor in those mineral substances required by the cells of your bodily tissues. These millions of cells—veritable little power-plants—utilize these minerals as fuel in producing the vital power which operates your bodily machinery. When there is a shortage of this fuel these power-plants slow down.

You can prevent this slowing down of your "power-plants" by taking Wincarnis. Because by taking Wincarnis you immediately supply your blood with the very minerals that are required, and you supply them in a form in which they are readily absorbed, and quickly carried to your power plants.

Start taking WINCARNIS to-day and you will know what it is to enjoy the winter.

Grain Pours Into ALL COAST CITIES

110,298,083 Bushels Have Been Marketed, and 63,010 Cars Loaded so Far

Winnipeg, Nov. 3.—With 110,298,083 bushels of grain marketed and 63,010 cars loaded by October 31, the golden harvest of the West is literally pouring to the Atlantic and Pacific coasts over the lines of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company.

These figures, available at the transportation offices of the company here, represent a major increase in marketing and car loadings over the corresponding period of last year during which 98,109,648 bushels were marketed and 59,473 cars loaded.

The increase in marketing was obtained in spite of adverse weather conditions during September, seriously interfering with harvesting operations in the three prairie provinces. Early in October weather conditions improved over the larger portions of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta and threshing was carried on with only occasional interruptions. Farmers throughout the country took advantage of improved condition threshing day and night with the result that the marketings and loading of grain along the lines of the Canadian Pacific Railway during the month of October was one of the heaviest on record.

The energy which the farmers and the company used to achieve the result can be appreciated when it is stated that from August 1 up to the end of September 44,644,443 bushels of grain were marketed at elevators on Canadian Pacific lines against 66,606,253 bushels during the corresponding period last year, car loadings showed a decrease of 11,000 notwithstanding that at the beginning of October marketings showed a decrease of 22,000,000 bushels and car loadings a decrease of 11,000 the month was ended with an increase over all figures of the previous year. During October the Canadian Pacific Railway loaded 36,562 cars and marketed 65,653,642 bushels of grain.

Very few of the five hundred tickets for the Victoria Press Club Guy Fawkes ball Friday at the Empress Hotel are left. The ball is to help the club establish its Santa Claus fund for the cripples of the Solarium.

TWO HUNDRED PAPERS TO FEATURE VICTORIA

Victoria, as the evergreen city of Canada will be given publicity in over 200 papers in the United States, according to word received by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau from the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's U.S. press representative in New York. A large layout of illustrations and publicity matter will be inserted in these papers through the efforts of the C.P.R. publicity bureau. The Empress Hotel, Pender's Gardens, the Victoria Golf Club and the War Memorial are portrayed. An item setting forth Victoria as "one of North America's most delightful winter resorts from point of climate and beauty" is included in the layout.

Nurse's Advice

Rid Her of Pimples
Brooklyn, Mrs. Minnie Penstetter writes:—"My pimples and black heads got so bad I feared it was eczema. I consulted in a nurse friend of mine. I had been troubled with constipation and indigestion for some time. She advised me to try Carter's Little Liver Pills. You can see by my picture that the treatment has done wonders, and I am now free from constipation. Chronic constipation many times causes pimples. Carter's Little Liver Pills encourage the bowels to eliminate the poisons. Druggists, 25 & 75c red packages. (Advt.)"

Grim Pyorrhea gets 4 out of 5

All around you are people doomed, through carelessness, to contract Pyorrhea. Four persons out of five past forty (and many younger) are its victims.

Carelessness—neglect of teeth and gums—is the cause. And the results, too often, are loss of teeth, neuritis, rheumatism, or other serious diseases.

And yet, if you start in time, it is so easy to prevent. See your dentist twice a year. And start using Forhan's for the Gums.

Used regularly and in time, Forhan's prevents Pyorrhea or checks it. It firms the gums and keeps them healthy. It protects teeth against decay-causing acids, and keeps them white.

Ask your dentist about Forhan's, the formula of R. J. Forhan, D. D. S. It contains Forhan's Pyorrhea Liquid, used by dentists.

Safeguard youth and health! Start the morning-and-night Forhan habit, today. Teach your children to use it as health-insurance. At all druggists' 35c and 60c.

Forhan's Antiseptic, a new product, more powerful, safe, antiseptic mouthwash known, has no tell-tale odor of its own. Keeps you safe from whispering tongues. Try it.

TWO VICTORIA BOYS ACCIDENT VICTIMS

Car Hit in Collision on Mainland Turns Over Twice

Among the week-end victims of motor accidents on the mainland were two local boys, namely, Charlie Swannell and Frank Lewis. Both Lewis and Swannell are attending the teacher training class at the University of British Columbia, having graduated last May. The two boys were motorist on Sunday afternoon to Ladner from Point Grey when struck by a United States car. After causing the boy's car to turn over twice, the United States car proceeded to ram another car, and finally turned over itself. Of the eight people involved only the occupants of the "Victoria" boys' car, which Swannell was driving, were injured. Swannell and Lewis were able to return home suffering from bruises and shock.

Keating

Keating, Nov. 3.—The Young People's Club of the South Saanich United Church held the first meeting for the month of November on Monday evening in the church parlor. There was a good attendance and an interesting evening was enjoyed. The religious committee, Miss L. Dearing and W. McClure had charge of the programme, and a paper on "Results of Your Words and Deeds" was given by Miss Lillian Dearing. Miss Christie MacNab presided over the business session and Miss Ida Heyer gave the report of the recent enjoyable Halloween social and previous meeting. The three-act play, "All on Account of Polly," in which sixteen members will be included in the cast will be presented at the Temperance Hall, Keating, on Wednesday, November 24, at the Royal Oak Hall in co-operation with the Royal Oak School on Friday, November 26, and at Sidney on Tuesday, November 30. After the business meeting a jolly time was spent in games and refreshments were served. The meeting on November 15 will be in charge of A. Hafer, athletic convener.

The fortnightly card party will take place in the Temperance Hall on Saturday evening November 6, under the auspices of the South Saanich Women's Institute, when Mrs. H. Lawrie, Mrs. R. E. Nimmo, Mrs. E. Nimmo and Miss M. McKenzie will act as hostesses.

The chicken supper and dance under the auspices of the South Saanich Women's Institute will be held in the Temperance Hall on Thanksgiving day, Monday, November 8. Supper will be served between the hours of 7:30 and 9 o'clock, after which music for old and new dances will be provided with Ray Kinloch's three-piece orchestra in attendance. Card tables will be arranged for those who wish to play, and an enjoyable affair is being planned. Tickets may be obtained from the members, and all are asked to make their reservations early.

Thanksgiving service will be held in the South Saanich United Church on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, when the pastor, Rev. M. W. Lees will deliver the Thanksgiving message and appropriate music will be rendered.

The teachers and pupils of Keating School are arranging for a Christmas concert, the date having been set for Friday, December 17, in the Temperance Hall.

Mrs. N. H. Lamont returned to her home on Telegraph Road on Monday from the Jubilee Hospital, Victoria, and is rapidly improving after her recent serious operation.

George Hafer returned to Port Angeles on Monday for a few weeks, after spending a holiday at his home on Central Saanich Road.

Mrs. F. Turgoose, Saanichton, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. H. Helgeson at Metchoin.

The Saanichton Athletic Association opened their winter activities with the first of the series of fortnightly card parties in the Agricultural Hall on Saturday evening. Eight tables competed for honors, two tables trying for first prize with twenty-three discs. Upon the play-off first prize winners were Miss Mary Peden and W. McKay, R. Pope and C. Gosnell, while seconds were awarded to Mrs. T. Peden, Mrs. Sutton, J. M. Malcolm and Master Gordon Mitchell. Following the game refreshments were served by a committee of ladies.

The Young People spent a very gay time on Saturday evening when they celebrated Halloween at "Valley Farm," the home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Mansie. The many fancy costumes, both humorous and grotesque, afforded much amusement. Ghosts, flitting about the house, figured conspicuously in the entertainment. Weird noises, dim lighting effects, appropriate Halloween games, decorations, ghost-walks, etc., all added to the evening's enjoyment.

The school children observed Halloween on Saturday evening, when, under the leadership of their teachers, they paraded through the neighborhood.

Vancouver Sending Strong Swimmers To Championship Gala

V.A.S.C. Complete Details For Thanksgiving Day Event;
Appoint Officials

Canadian and B.C. Championships Attract Good
Entry List

Details for the Canadian championship swimming gala which is to be held at the Crystal Garden on Thanksgiving Day, November 8, were arranged at a meeting of the executive committee of the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club, held last evening.

Two Canadian and six British Columbia championships will be held at this gala, which promises to be one of the biggest of the season. It is not known as yet whether or not any Eastern swimmers will be here for the Canadian championships, but it is possible that some Seattle and Portland aquatic stars will be on the job. Vancouver will be strongly represented. The team which they will send over was picked at a meeting held in the Mainland last night.

WATER POLO

Vancouver is mustering a powerful and fast water polo team to defend the B.C. championship which they won last year from Victoria. The local V.A.S.C. has been training faithfully for this event, and expect to put a crafty squad in the water and, if possible, bring back the trophy. All local swimmers will train at the Crystal Garden.

It is to be noted that the Junior British Columbia championship is over a distance of 100 yards, and this is a new feature. The present holder is George Burrows, of Vancouver, who will be present to defend his title.

Rettie Lingard, of the Miraloma Club, who is one of the best women swimmers outside of Victoria, will be over for the women's 200 yards Canadian championship. This is sure to be a good race between Audrey Griffin and Rettie, irrespective of any others who may enter.

There will be extra prizes in addition to the championship event. Two children's races, for boys under their fifteenth birthday, and for girls under their fifteenth birthday, over fifty yards, have been added to the programme.

Wednesday League
Stands Good With the Governing Body

"Although not affiliated with the British Columbia Football Association, the Wednesday Football League is not by any means to be termed an outlaw league and it is extremely regrettable that any such impression should be allowed to get abroad," stated the governing body representative of the B.C.F.A. this morning.

At the meeting of the provincial body in Vancouver last Saturday the matter of the mid-week clubs not being affiliated with the B.C.F.A. was taken up, but there was no suggestion that they should for that reason be outlawed.

On the contrary the B.C.F.A. has made it clear that the mid-week league is in good standing in British Columbia football even if not affiliated with that body, by giving sanction for a game on Thanksgiving Day here between the Saanich Thistles, which is an affiliated club, and the leading club in the Wednesday League.

"HAIR-GROOM"

Keeps Hair Combed, Glossy
Well-Groomed All Day

"Hair-Groom" is a dignified combing cream which costs only a few cents a jar at any drug store. Millions use it because it gives that natural gloss and well-groomed effect to the hair—that final touch to good dress both in business and on social occasions. Even stubborn, unruly or shaggy hair stays combed all day in any style you like. "Hair-Groom" is greaseless; also helps grow thick, lustrous hair.

AMATEUR HOCKEY TO BE FIRST CLASS IN CITY, PREXY STATES

"We're going to have first-class amateur hockey this winter, no mistake about that," was the comment of George Warren, president of the Victoria Amateur Ice Hockey League this morning. Mr. Warren was in a position to reveal any details but intimated that there would be considerable discussion on the matter at the annual meeting of the league to-night at 8 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce.

Axioms Have Easy
Victory In First
Senior Hoop Game

Take Measure of Mets 32-0 at Memorial Hall in Very
One-sided Affair

Basket Second Before Time
Gave Volunteers Close Win
Over First Baptists

The main event in the Sunday School basketball games played at the Memorial Hall last night was between the Axioms and the Mets in the senior girls' section. The former won by the one-sided score of 32-0. The most exciting tussle was in the intermediate girls' section between the Volunteers and the First Baptists, as advertised. The Volunteers won by the score of 10-9.

In the junior girls' section the Fairfields walked away from Oak Bay by 46-0. When the boys' event of the evening was between the Eagles and the Crescents in the intermediate class, the score ending 21-11 for the Crescents.

In the major event the Axioms got away to a fine start. Their combination was good and they ran their score up to six points. The Mets settled down and began to check hard. At the end of the first period the score stood at 14-0. In the second half fast dribbling featured the play, but the Mets were too slow for the faster Axioms and the Axioms ran up eighteen more points. For the Axioms R. Bethel was the top scorer with nine points.

EXCITING GAME

Stan Jackson refereed and the teams were:
Axioms—K. Forbes, 6, M. Briggs, 6, H. Styan, 4, R. Bethel, 9, M. Edwards, 2, M. Wilson, 3, D. Watson, 3, B. Ross.
Mets—A. McKenzie, R. Redman, H. Boyce, M. Lee, A. Downard, M. Williams, D. Nannarow.

The most exciting game of the season up to the present time was between the First Baptists and the Volunteers. In the first half the Volunteers ran up eight points, while the First only scored two baskets. When play was resumed the First started fast, and a few minutes before time were one point ahead. A second before the timekeeper blew the whistle Isabel Moir dribbled the length of the floor and scored on a nice shot which gave her team the decision.

Alan Le Marquand refereed and the teams were:
First—D. Elliott, R. Brown, 1, H. A. Laid, 4, E. Bremner, 18, F. Part, ridge, 24, E. Young.
Volunteers—M. Moir, E. L. Walker, 2, M. Bates, M. Ralf, E. Young, D. Cook, R. Ferguson, 2, F. Morrison.

The Fairfields fielded a strong team against the Oak Bays, who were playing together for the first time. F. Partridge was high scorer for the Fairfields, with a tally of twenty-four points. E. Bremner came a close second with eighteen.

Stan Jackson refereed and the teams were:
Fairfields—L. Gilcrest, I. Burnette, H. Laird, 4, E. Bremner, 18, F. Part, ridge, 24, E. Young.
Oak Bay—R. Moore, E. Heisterman, H. Mitchell, A. Forest, A. Ruffie, M. Bryden, W. Ford.

In the boys' event both teams were new to the game, but they played good ball. Long passes were the feature, with an occasional fast play. W. Lemm handled the whistle and the teams were:
Eagles—G. Killick, H. English, 6, R. Robertson, 5, B. Brown, T. Trotter, G. Headley, H. Simpson.
Crescents—B. Lowe, 12, N. McConnell, L. Jones, 4, V. Jones, 1, R. Thorpe, F. Haggis, 2.

Stream of Comment
Follows Selection
Of Lester Patrick

Causes More Interest Than Any Other Appointment in Hockey in Years

Sport Writers Revive Stories of Lester; Just Man For Job,
They Say

Appointment of Lester Patrick as manager of the New York Rangers has stirred up more interest in hockey in the East than any appointment made in years. Papers all over the East are singing the local man's praises, handing out bouquets, reviewing old time stories about him and voicing predictions.

Other managers have been appointed to handle clubs and have hardly caused a ripple of comment. One only has to read the names and tenacious comments on Eastern hockey on Lester's appointment to realize just how big a man he is in hockey.

WHAT THEY SAY

Fred Wilson, sports editor of The Globe, of Toronto, in referring to Lester's appointment, tells a story about some of the mogul's greatest exploits. He says—

"Patrick will have full charge of professional hockey at Madison Square Garden, and will tutor the Rangers team. He has been a power in the sport for many years, first leading into the calcium glare in 1906, when he scored two goals at Ottawa to give the Wanderers the round by two to ten. It was a memorable series that Patrick broke up. The Ottawa Silver Seven cracked badly in Montreal in the first of the play-off games, and by a score of nine to one that eight-goal lead looked like a million, but the Ottawa management signed Percy Leisner, then a goalkeeper with Smith's Falls, and hit back at the Wanderers so effectively that they had the score nine to one and ten to ten on the round.

"It looked all over but the cheering. The huge crowd that had jammed its way into the old Gladstone rink at Ottawa went wild with delight. But just to take the enjoyment out of life for those rabid fans in the Capital, Lester Patrick, halcyon and brilliant, Wanderer defence man, then made two rushes in succession, and on each occasion drove the puck into the net, winning the title for the Montrealers in one of the most nerve-wracking finishes in the history of sport.

A GREAT TEAM

In 1910, when M. J. O'Brien, a multi-millionaire, rounded out a great team for Renfrew in the National Hockey Association, he paid the then record price of $3,000 for Lester Patrick's services. The deal was made on December 12, 1910, when the team had only seven home games. Lester Patrick, at the same salary, three thousand dollars was a lot of money sixteen years ago, when the team had only seven home games.

Renfrew was overworked with all-stars, having players like "Newsy" Lalonde, the Patricks, Fred Taylor, Jordan Patrick, and Fred Taylor. The team was mainly responsible for the downfall of the Millionaires. In a bitterly contested game in the Northern town of Seattle, in the winter of 1910, the Renfrew players were cut down without fear or favor. Only three players escaped the butchery, the Patrick brothers and Bobby Rowe, taking an immense pounding without receiving any injuries. Lalonde, Lindsay, Whitcroft, Taylor and Gilmour came out of that battle in bad condition and in the next game at Renfrew the Wanderers whipped the Millionaires and practically ended professional hockey in the Creamery Town. Although O'Brien did stick to his guns and put the team back on the ice in 1911, when he introduced the Cleghorn brothers to professional hockey.

Lester Patrick arrived here last week and immediately took over the reins of control at Ranger headquarters. He lost no time in getting busy, and was in communication immediately with National League clubs seeking new players. The present squad, however, will be carried for some time.

"It was known some days ago that a change was contemplated in the management of the Rangers. Patrick was the man sought, his success with the Victoria team impressing the New York Ranger owners.

"The plot from the West is one of the most remarkable players ever developed."

Ed. Baker, sports editor of the Ottawa Citizen, who acted as president judge at the race meets here during the Summer, makes the following comment—

"Amateur management of professional sport has never proven very successful and the second New York Club required the very best man obtainable to handle the players through what is sure to be a strenuous season, their first in select society.

"Lester Patrick is one of the founders of professional hockey and is second to none in the game from a tactical standpoint. When the Cougars were sold bag and baggage to Detroit interests, it was generally thought that the Victoria manager would be sought for the job. He has handled so successfully, but for some reason or other, Lester turned down the Detroit engagement.

"A man with the experience and ability of Lester Patrick would be invaluable to any club in the National Hockey League, particularly to a club like the Rangers breaking into big time hockey."

Famous Golfer May Play Here on Armistice Day

Robert E. Harlow, manager for Walter Hagen, recognized as one of the leading professional golfers in the world, was in town today arranging for the appearance of Hagen in Victoria. It is expected that Hagen will play on Thursday of next week, which is Armistice Day. He will appear in an eighteen-hole match against a local professional. Hagen is at present making a tour of Canada and the United States and will appear in Vancouver for two days next week.

Standing of Smythe
Delicate Question
For Amateur Heads

Former Manager of New York
Rangers Asks For His Amateur Card

Toronto, Nov. 3.—When delegates and the executive of the Amateur Athletic Association of Canada gathered at Saint John, N.E., for the annual meeting of this organization during the early part of December they will be presented with a unique problem concerning the amateur status of Lester Patrick, who has for several seasons coached the hockey team of the University of Toronto, but who this Summer worked in the interests of the New York Rangers Hockey Club, by gathering part of the team that will represent that city in the National Hockey League this season.

Smythe continued in the employ of the Rangers until last week, when he resigned, because of business reasons, and it is now his intention to apply to the Ontario branch of the association for his amateur card. He declared "he can do this with a clear conscience."

His argument is that his connection with the Rangers was a business one and that, as he only signed players for the club and did not coach them in hockey, he was not earning his living by sport and therefore is entitled to his amateur standing.

His case will be dealt with this week by the Ontario Branch, who will have the Dominion body notified in time to take it up at the annual meeting.

BERCOT WON ON A FOUL

Seattle, Nov. 3.—Dode Bercot of Everett, Wash., after fighting two losing rounds against Freddie Mack of Seattle, here last night, was fouled and awarded the decision. They are welterweights.

Like the Rangers breaking into big time hockey.

Lou Marsh, in The Toronto Star, says—

"The Rangers lost a good man when they lost Smythe, but they have picked up an exceptionally clever hockey man in Lester Patrick. He knows hockey from every angle. Lester will have plenty to do all the year round. Hockey has to be built up and fostered in New York—it is just toddling there yet—and in addition the Madison Square Garden people own the Springfield club in the Canadian-American League down East, and have completed arrangements to build a $5,000,000 arena in Chicago next year.

"Here is a statement from Col. Hammond, which was set at rest at last night's bout. Tex Rickard's connection with the New York Americans—Tex Rickard has not a dollar's interest in the New York American Club. He holds no official position with that club. He is an employee of the Madison Square Garden Corporation. He merely lent the use of his name to the New York Americans, so that the name would be 'sold' to the New York sporting public. The New York American Club is owned in its entirety entirely outside of the Madison Square Garden Corporation. The only connection with Madison Square Garden is that they lease ice privileges from us."

Hagen to Play With Youthful Wizard at
New Vancouver Club

Vancouver, Nov. 3.—Walter Hagen, famous golfer, will play over the new course of the Canadian Pacific Railway at South Vancouver, "Langara," on Friday, November 12. Partnered by Charlie McCadden, the fifteen-year-old golf wizard of British Columbia, against the veterans, Dave Black and Ralph Cornfoot, Hagen has expressed his intention to do his utmost to lower the record for the course which now stands to the credit of Dave Ayton with 70. Bob Harlow, Hagen's manager, visited the "Langara" course yesterday and expressed the greatest admiration for this "Westward Ho" of the Pacific coast. He was especially struck by the size of the bent grass greens which cover an area of approximately 15,000 square feet per green.

Willie Ritola Home
First in Ten-mile
Race For U.S. Title

Yonkers, N.Y., Nov. 3.—Willie Ritola, of the Finnish-American A.C. yesterday won the national ten-mile time, equalling the feat of his compatriot, Hannes Kolehmainen.

The floor-footed Finn came from behind to save the race in the last mile and a half, after a cramp had forced him to yield the peacemaking position to Gonzales Moreno, an army runner, during the seventh mile. The latter finished second, while Anderson, another Finnish star, was third. Ritola was clocked in 53 minutes 30.4 seconds.

Record times for the 10,000 metres was set by Harry Hinkel, of the New York A.C., in winning the seven-mile walking title. Hinkel bettered his own former mark of 49 minutes 6 seconds by hiking the distance in 47.08. He then pushed ahead to cover the seven miles in 52.54.4.5, leading Michael Pecora of Hazleton, Pa., by twenty yards.

"SOCIAL HIGHWAYMAN"
Attraction for Week
AT PLAYHOUSE THEATRE

William Beaudine, director, and John Patrick, featured player in Warner Bros. production of "The Social Highwayman" at the Playhouse own stock in and patronize rival Hollywood laundries. Both of them are ever willing to proselytize. "The Social Highwayman" was their first picture together and so neither knew that the other was boosting a rival laundry—not until one morning when Mr. Beaudine remarked to Mr. Patrick, when he came on the set, "Where do you send your laundry, Johnny?" "The Empty-ump," replied Johnny. "Why do you want me to send my driver around?" "Now," drawled "Beau" disgustedly as he examined Johnny's "cuts" do preciously. "Why don't you send your stuff to a good laundry?" "Good laundry?" exploded Johnny with a snort. "I'll have you know that the Empty-ump is the best in town! What's your mistaken idea of a good laundry?" "The Empty-ump," of course," crawled Beau wittingly. And so back and forth for fifteen minutes of whitewashing and musing. "Well," at last spoke Johnny. "You can't change your mind because I know it's a good laundry—I own stock in it." "My Gosh," groaned "Beau," "Why didn't you say so at first? I own stock in mine, too." "We'll call it a draw, then," said John as Miss Devore strolled on to the set in half an hour late. "The Social Highwayman," written by Darryl Francis Zanuck, is now showing at the Playhouse Theatre.

COLUMBIA PICTURE IS PACKED WITH LAUGHS THRILLS AND APPEAL

A pretty, "butter and egg" man from Chicago, who rushes to Scotland in a vain attempt to block the marriage of his beautiful daughter to a young English Lord, is the role in which George Nichols was cast in "Bachelor Brides." Rod La Rocque's new starring picture which will be on view at the Columbia Theatre to-day, is a massive build, Nichols is typically the man for the part. His screen experience extends over a period of eighteen years, and includes featured roles in many big successes. He plays the father of Elinor Fair who is seen in the feminine lead. William K. Howard directed the production, which is said to be packed with laughs and situations of thrill and appeal. Julia Faye, Eulalie Jensen and Sally Land have important roles.

BECOMES A VILLAIN IN DESIRE TO HELP WOMAN HE LOVES

Do you know what an "Ace of Cads" is? According to Michael Arien's story which Luther Reed has made into a Paramount picture with Adolphe Menjou in the title role at the Dominion Theatre this week, he is a man who becomes a villain only because of his desire to help the woman he loves.

Chappel Martin, young officer of the British "Burs" in "Bachelor Brides," returns his affection until he is found in questionable company. Unknown to either of them, this discovery has been "framed" by Basil de Gramercy, mutual friend of the lovers. Eleanor breaks their engagement and Chappel is discharged from the regiment. On hearing of Eleanor's marriage to Basil, Martin goes to France. Twenty years later he arrives in London with the girl of his love still burning. Things have changed. Basil is dead, having been killed in France. Eleanor and her daughter.

LANGDON IS A RIOT IN "THE STRONG MAN" AT CAPITOL THEATRE

"A Dumb-Bell's Diary" might well have been the title of "The Strong Man," which is holding forth at the Capitol Theatre this week. Harry Langdon is starred in the riot of fun as an assistant to a German strong man, and his indescribably funny face sends crowds into hysterics every time he lifts a dumb-bell. "The Strong Man" will remain at the Capitol until Saturday. It's a First National Picture.

"MRS. WIGGS OF THE CABBAGE PATCH" ONE OF COLISEUM'S BEST

Mrs. Wiggs had her own troubles, not least of which was a straying husband, and her family of young daughters, named after the various continents, gave her plenty of occupation, but her heart was big and she is the first and only one, in the village to befriend lovely little "Lovey Mary," who, much to the scandal of evergreen, arrives with a comparatively new baby. "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" is one of the best Ed. Redmond has given to Coliseum patrons and the united States audience last night enjoyed an entirely delightful show.

HUMAN QUALITY IN GALSWORTHY'S PLAY

"Old English" Makes Excellent Vehicle For Famous Actor

John Galsworthy has won enduring fame in English literature by his novel, "The Forsyte Saga," which generally is ranked as one of the great stories in the English language. As a playwright he has commanded the attention of the entire cultured world with such dramas as "Strife," "The Skin Game," "Justice," and "The Silver Box." But it was not until he wrote "Old English" that he attracted a completely democratic audience to his theatre. George Arliss, who appears at the Royal Victoria Theatre in this comedy, these nights, only, beginning Thursday, November 4, first played this drama in 1924. After 200 performances in New York, he acted in it in Eastern Canada and the United States, and it is now a broke house record. This is an interesting fact. It always is conceded that there is a thoughtful audience for the fine things of art. It is no doubt the "Old English" that has caught the public's fancy.

ELMAN QUARTETTE CREATING FURORE

Mischa Elman Here November 10; Musical Club Auspices

With the inspiring leadership of Mr. Elman, the Mischa Elman String Quartette has succeeded in creating a furore wherever they have played. The news of this success has spread throughout the country and created a demand for their services in many places. Responding to this demand, Mr. Elman, at great personal sacrifice, decided to devote the season of 1926-27 in America exclusively to playing with his quartette. Mr. Elman will make no recital appearances in this country until 1929-30. This quartette will play at the Royal Theatre on Wednesday, November 10, under the auspices of the Ladies' Musical Club. Mail orders will be received at Fletcher Bros., and seats will be on sale at Fletcher's on Saturday, November 6, at 10 a.m. Mail orders must be accompanied by remittance covering the cost of tickets, and must be called for at Fletcher's unless accompanied by a stamped addressed envelope for return.

GIVES ADDRESS ON STRAITS SETTLEMENTS

Giving a graphic description of the social, commercial and scenic aspects of life in the Straits Settlements, A. Brodie Sanders addressed the Overseas League at their monthly gathering in Spencer's Cafe, Monday afternoon. Stressing in particular the commercial advantages of the Malay States, he stated that the bulk of the world's consumption of rubber and tin was imported from that part of the British Empire. There was also a large market for wonderfully colored silk fabrics produced there. A general condition of prosperity was apparent, he said, with just laws and freedom from taxes. The Rev. W. W. Bolton presided over the meeting. He suggested that Christmas cakes be sent to three enrolled members of the league, settled in the Arctic regions. This was agreed to by the gathering and Mrs. Hodgins was deputed to arrange it.

ENCOURAGEMENT FOR HOME GARDENERS

Victoria Association Will Broaden Scope in Next Competition

The regular monthly meeting of the Victoria and District Gardeners' Association was held at City Hall last evening. In the absence of the president, who is attending an executive meeting of the newly-formed Provincial Horticultural Council in Vancouver, Dr. A. G. Price, vice-president, presided. At the opening of the meeting the chairman referred to the loss the association had sustained, in the death of one of its old members, Joy Sweney. The secretary was instructed to convey to the widow, the association's deepest sympathy. A standing vote of condolence was passed.

E. A. Saunders, superintendent of the gardens at the Empress Hotel, was nominated as the representative on the board of trustees of the native plant garden to be established in Beacon Hill Park.

HOME GARDENS
A general discussion took place regarding the home garden competition for next year. R. M. Palmer of Colville Hill, who was one of the judges for the past year, also Geo. Robinson of Elk Lake who assisted with the judging the three previous years were present, and gave their recommendations for the betterment of the competition. It is expected to broaden out considerably for next year to care for the ever-growing popularity of this sphere of the association's work.

A schedule was approved for the competitions in connection with the monthly meetings, which will care for all the meetings of the year. Greater efforts are being made to increase the interest in these competitions, particularly from an educational standpoint. The association extended its thanks to the special committee who have worked on the project of the native plant garden, and whose report was approved at a public meeting at the Chamber of Commerce last week. Particular reference was made to the work undertaken by the president of the association, F. R. Leighton, whose untiring efforts in the interest of the garden have now materialized. The successful competitors in the new competition last evening were:

Vegetable class—1, Mrs. E. W. Darcus; 2, H. W. Cooper; 3, G. T. Williams.

Floral class—1, J. A. Wiley; 2, G. Astley; 3, Mrs. E. W. Darcus.

Another German Face in Hollywood

A SERIAL STORY

"The Unwilling Adventuress"

By MILDRED BARBOUR

He clasped his twitching fingers together tightly and implored her with tragic eyes.

"You must marry me," he said simply. "I cannot live without you. It is unthinkable."

As gently as she could, Doris shook her head.

"I can't marry you, Ivan. I'm awfully fond of you, but I don't love you."

"You must love me!" he insisted with terrible earnestness in his smoldering eyes. "You can't think what you do to me when you tell me that. You rob me of the will to live. You take away my art, my ambition. You silence the golden melody which is the song of my soul. You will kill me—yes, if you deny me, you will be my death."

Doris said sensibly: "Nonsense, Ivan. Don't talk like that. I'm just a very ordinary girl, and if you think anything else, it's because you've idealized me. And I'm not worth it, really. I want to be your friend, but I can't be, if you're going to continue to talk like this. It spoils everything."

He stared at her wildly. Then he fell again into fathoms of gloom. Doris felt dreadfully uncomfortable, but she didn't know what she could do about it. She told herself she was not equal to coping with the artistic temperament. She had a number of proposals in her brief life, but never from a suitor who wouldn't understand that he was rejected.

She stretched a slim hand across the table.

"Please be friends," she coaxed. "I'm terribly sorry really, but—"

He brushed aside her hand.

"You'll be more sorry soon," he prophesied hollowly. "When I say that I cannot live without you, I mean it. It's not an idle phrase."

Doris began to draw on her gloves, her brows drawn with perplexity.

"Now, Ivan," she was beginning, but he cut her short by rising abruptly.

"Goodbye," he caught her startled fingers in his tips for an instant.

"And it is really goodbye. You will never see me again, alive."

She caught his coat sleeve, coaxingly.

"Ivan, don't talk like that. You frighten me. It's quite wrong and wicked of you."

His white, determined face, the strange purpose in his mournful eyes disturbed her more than his words. He had been so kind to her, she thought, for some way to put him in a happier and more wholesome frame of mind before he left her.

"Come, walk with me," she pleaded. "Let me sing for you some of your lovely verses. There'll be no one at my apartment. We can have a real chat, talk this over."

He looked at her so steadily that she flushed and stammered knowing that he saw through her ruse.

"Then—then—give me time to think," she pleaded. "I really, you know, you quite took my breath away when you told me you loved me. I truly didn't know."

"Goodbye," he repeated inexorably, and went away.

Doris walked slowly homeward through the grey, gathering twilight. She was so disturbed by the scene with Ivan that she did not notice the man who lingered on the sidewalk opposite her apartment—the mysterious stranger who watched her from afar.

But Count Romeo, coming down the street some time later, noticed him, recognized him, and felt considerable uneasiness. In fact, instead of entering Doris's apartment, as he had intended, he strolled on and entered a cafe at the corner. From this vantage, he watched until the other man had gone away.

CHAPTER XLVII

"Maria," said Doris, as her little French-maid-companion, pushed in the doorway of the drawing-room, dressed for the street and her regular afternoon jaunt. "I've a letter here that I want you to slip the sheet of note-paper into an envelope addressed to Ivan Ivanoff, sealed it, and gave it to the woman."

When the latter had gone, Doris

To End Severe Cough Quickly, Try This

For real results, this old home-made remedy beats them all. Easily prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous home-made remedy. The immediate relief given is almost like magic. It is easily prepared, and there is nothing better for coughs.

Into a 16-oz. bottle, put 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. Or you can use clarified honey, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, this mixture saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the plegma this out and disappear. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or cold, and it is also splendid for bronchitis, hoarseness, and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaracoli, the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for 2½ ounces of Pinex with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

PINEX for Coughs remained at her desk, the pen-holder poised against her lips.

"It wasn't very honest of me," she thought, recalling the encouraging phrases that letter had contained, "to make a proposal of marriage. I was distinctly hopeful. But he seemed so desperate. Of course, he would do anything, but he'd be so sorry for days and I'd be to blame."

She sighed, wishing the poet could have been the "right man." Just as she was about to leave, she caught sight of a note pinned to her door. It was from Ivan. She opened it and read: "I'm just a very ordinary girl, and if you think anything else, it's because you've idealized me. And I'm not worth it, really. I want to be your friend, but I can't be, if you're going to continue to talk like this. It spoils everything."

Doris exclaimed with vexation: "I wonder what on earth he can want?"

"A wonder," shrugged the Count, but there was an uneasy gleam in his eyes.

She was lying herself on the sofa and rearranging her cushions petulantly for her.

"It's been a horrid day," she announced.

"Anything up?" inquired the Count, with averted brows, as he lit a cigarette.

"Everything," declared Doris and hesitated, then making up her mind swiftly, she said:

"Will you do me a favor? Will you go to see Ivan this evening? I'm worried about him."

"Why?" he inquired, smiling a trifle wisely.

"Well," she punched a pillow viciously. "Shouldn't you tell the Count that you don't want to be his friend?"

"You couldn't tell me if you don't want to," he broke in. "Can you guess Ivanoff's motive?"

"I don't know," she admitted. "But, Ivan, I'm not so easily put off as poor old Ivan."

"I wrote him a letter just now," said Doris thoughtfully, ignoring his boast. "I hope it will cheer him up a little. But, just the same, I wish you'd drop around to see him tonight."

He shrugged again.

"I dare say I'll be most unwelcome. He and I are rivals and we both know it. There's no love lost between us. But if it pleases you—"

He rose, got himself into his coat and picked up stick and gloves:

Uncle Wiggily and the Green Leaf

Through the woods, where were sear and brown, now that Winter had come, Uncle Wiggily hopped one day. The rabbit gentleman was feeling happy and at peace with all the world.

There was no one to answer Uncle Wiggily as he asked this question

He sank back in his chair with a laugh.

"My beautiful, little Doris, that is not my method of love making. Far from it. When I start, I'm not so easily put off as poor old Ivan."

"I wrote him a letter just now," said Doris thoughtfully, ignoring his boast. "I hope it will cheer him up a little. But, just the same, I wish you'd drop around to see him tonight."

FIGHTING NOW TO PREVENT CRUELTY

S.P.C.A. Will Seek Those Whose Thoughtlessness Causes Suffering

In an effort to check and punish thoughtless people, the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals is seeking information as to the identity of a person who, while driving an automobile, recently struck down a horse and left it by the roadside with a leg broken and other injuries. The injuries made it necessary to dispatch the suffering creature.

The society is also seeking persons who leave from time to time litters of kittens and puppies in sacks at various parts of the city or suburbs to die of starvation. Recently eight puppies were found in a sack on a local golf course. Someone had left them there to die. It is cases of this sort that the society pledges itself to prevent and to punish if necessary.

Tuesday, November 16, is the date set for the annual meeting of the S.P.C.A. The society needs new members and it is earnestly hoped, according to a statement from the officers that there will be a good attendance of animal lovers.

The society has issued special thanks for co-operation and assistance to the Provincial Police, whose efforts are always whole-hearted when on behalf of the society. There are others who have lent assistance at various times, and these also the society wishes to approve.

YOUNG CHICKENS MAY GIVE TUBERCULOSIS TO COWS AND HOGS

The only satisfactory way to eradicate tuberculosis from poultry is to destroy the entire flock wherever the disease is found to exist, says Dr. T. S. Rich of the Department of Agriculture.

The general belief has existed that chickens under one year of age seldom develop tuberculosis to the extent of becoming spreaders of the disease. It was thought that culling all birds above that age from the flock would soon eliminate the disease.

To test the theory, Dr. Rich's forces entered into a general culling campaign covering all the flocks in one township where he is in charge of tuberculosis eradication work.

Since that time, every individual chicken on 151 farms was actually examined, or a total of 15,377. From this number, 1494 were removed as culled, and eighty-six found to be tuberculous upon post-mortem examination. Three generalized cases were birds under one year of age.

The disease was demonstrated to exist in about thirty-eight per cent of the flocks examined. Dr. Rich concluded that birds under one year of age are a source of danger as well as the older ones and should be removed along with the rest of the flock when infection is discovered.

The extent of the disease in the poultry of the United States and the menace it offers as a means of spreading tuberculosis to other animals, has been made known for a long time. Authorities have known for a long time that hogs are readily infected by tuberculosis. When the campaign to eradicate cattle tuberculosis was begun it was not generally realized, however, that the avian type was so prevalent in the Corn Belt, or that it would be necessary to give it consideration along with the bovine type in preventing the infection of swine.

When a shipment of hogs from Hillsdale county, where bovine tuberculosis had been practically eradicated, was slaughtered at the Buffalo market, quite a number were found to show signs of tuberculosis. Investigation proved undoubtedly that the source of the infection was the county, and further that a large part of the swine infection in that county at present is of the avian type.

CANADIAN APPLE IS PRODUCT OF EARLIEST PIONEERS' FORESIGHT

The Canadian apple, which is being celebrated in the National Apple Week now under way, is the product of a long and varied history. The apple came with the earliest pioneers and it has been their companion on each movement towards the setting sun. Like other hardy Britishers, it was of that type of pioneer which could endure the hardships of frontier life and, at the same time, lend to that life an atmosphere of culture and refinement.

In new districts, when first the soil was turned, grain was planted. Grain first filled the larder and provided foodstuff and was perhaps the bulwark and the foundation of the new country, but the real home atmosphere began to brood about when the apple trees set in the new-turned soil, began to bud and their ripened fruit in home dooryards.

Those homes became the more permanent as those trees reached maturity. The apple brought to the new country, but the real home atmosphere began to brood about when the apple trees set in the new-turned soil, began to bud and their ripened fruit in home dooryards.

THRILL OF APPLE PEELING

Often times they were roasted on the hearth before a heap of blazing logs, or they were peeled and eaten fresh when "neighbors" came. It took a sharp knife and a steady hand to entirely remove the peeling of an apple without breaking it and the brought about a certain thrill.

There was much truth in the old statement, "An apple a day keeps the doctor away." Furnishing proper mineral salts in the diet, the proper acids and bulk in the diet in the days of the pioneer, the apple had much to do with maintaining a splendid state of health in the family.

AIDS EDUCATION

As an educator the apple is without an equal. Men can plant and reap the many grains year after year without seeming to make progress so far as knowledge is concerned. But even in the more remote and rougher districts it has been observable that when an apple

CHILDREN CRY FOR

Fletcher's CASTORIA

When Baby Complains.

There are many ways a baby has of expressing any pain or irregularity or digression from its normal condition of health and happiness. A short sharp cry, a prolonged irritated cry. Restlessness, a constant turning of the head or of the whole body, fretful. In these and other ways a baby tells you there is something wrong. Most mothers know that a disordered stomach, or bowels that do not act naturally are the cause of most of baby's sufferings. A call for the doctor is the first thought, but in the event of any delay there should be ready at hand a safe remedy such as Fletcher's Castoria.

Castoria has been used for baby's ailments for over 30 years and has merited the good will of the family physician in a measure not equaled by any other baby's medicine because of its harmlessness and the good results achieved.

And remember this: Castoria is essentially a baby's remedy and not a cure-all for every member of the family. What might help you is too often dangerous when given to a babe.

To avoid imitations always look for the signature of Charles H. Fletcher. Proven directions on each package. Physicians everywhere recommend it.

London Jottings

Mr. and Mrs. Robin Watt are spending their vacation in Paris. Recent arrivals in London include Major and Mrs. A. S. Humphreys, Miss Dola Dunsin, Capt. E. P. Askey, Miss M. Judd, Miss L. C. T. S. Gore, Mrs. H. R. Mogg and Lieut. and Mrs. E. Godfrey all of Victoria, B.C.; Mr. E. Codling, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bell, Wm. Townsley, Mr. A. Crawford, Mrs. E. J. Palmer, Mr. W. J. Park, Mrs. T. W. Fairhurst of Vancouver and Mr. Anthony Williams of Victoria.

The Duke of Connaught opened the Army Officers' Art Club Exhibition in the Spring Gardens Galleries this afternoon, afterwards spending an hour viewing the 200 paintings. It was interesting to see some pictures by Col. E. A. P. Hobday. Robin Watt was showing seven of his works. To quote "The Times" critic, "Without information there is no mistaking the professional standard of the oil paintings of Mr. Watt."

The most arresting is "Charley Boy." The artist told me a rather unusual story connected with it. As depicted on the canvas, a youth was lying seriously ill, his life despaired of. The parents were summoned to the bedside. Expecting the death of their son, they requested Mr. Watt to paint a picture of him where he lay. The boy had lost all interest in life. He nodded enough, however, to have his portrait painted around him to make an effort to be well, and gradually he regained his lost vitality.

"Marie" shows us an old peasant woman sitting with folded hands in a garden in Brittany. His two crayon sketches are of "General Charles de Crespigny" and the artist's wife; Miss Bazely, Dr. Burns and a painting of Hon. F. A. Pauline, Agent-General for British Columbia, sitting at his desk in B.C. House showing a chair on which is displayed the coat of arms of the Province, complete his exhibits.

The Prince of Wales and the Duke of Connaught attended the dinner given by the Canada Club at the Savoy Hotel in honor of Lord Byng. There were many distinguished guests present, among whom were Field Marshal Viscount Allenby, G.C.B., G.C.M.G., Rt. Hon. L. S. Amery, M.P., Rt. Hon. Viscount Astor, Lieut.-Col. G. W. Badger, C.M.G., F.R.C.S., Senator G. H. Barnard, K.C., Rear Admiral A. Bromley, C.M.G., Kenneth Campbell, D.D.S., L.D.S.R., Hon. Winston Churchill, G.C.B., K.C.V.O., Lieut.-Col. A. To cover the cost of setting aside vacant lots for cultivation and town lots for woodyards, the City Council Monday adopted a nominal scale of fees to apply in each case. Property owners will pay $2.50 a year if they wish to put city property under cultivation. A fee of $2.50 will be asked from resident non-taxpayers, while non-residents will be charged $10 per lot in each case. Woodlots in the half-mile circle will cost those wishing to use city property for the purpose $10 per month, or $120 a year.
